Dear Hal:

There's been little of any eventful items to report but I thought I'd drop you a few lines & let you know what news I do have.

The Dallas office (assassination center) closed down obviously due to the recent death of Larry Howard. It is my understanding that one more issue of "Dateline-Dallas" will be published explaining the recent events but that issue most likely will be the last one. From someone I know it appears that Mrs. Howard and Robert Cutler had a "falling out" & this could explain why that center closed. I would assume that Cutler helped finance it & with him not involved the center couldn't continue.

Another source who told me of the Dallas closing told me of a report he's been looking into (& hopes to confirm) which is a claim that Dallas police officer Tippit had an illegitimate daughter who died recently. Do you know anything about this?

My series on the assassination has been moved from June to July as of now. It'll be a live series & will be 13 programs. If I can somehow arrange to have you on in some manner I'll advise you in enough time. It'll be every other week (2nd & 4th weeks of each month) on a Wednesday evening.

A notice I received from a distributor of books features a book called "Searching The Shadows" by a Steven S. Kinkeart. I've not heard of him — have you? Another new book listed is by a Donald Kimball called "Assassination II: The Kennedy Killing". The blurb on it virtually names LBJ and J. Edgar Hoover as behind the murder. Sounds like more of the Livingstone stuff! The blurb also mentions that it will reveal "Senator Russell's private notes about the 'single bullet' theory" and also his "resignation from the Warren Commission — (it was never sent). I would doubt that he mentions your name in any of this but I've not seen the book.

Let me, again, thank you for the copy of your "Selections from Whitewash" which you sent me. I've recommended to many who are not familiar with your work & urged them to get it in their bookstores.

I'm enclosing copies of articles on J. Edgar Hoover & E. Haldeman-Julius (who was the publisher of the famous "Little Blue Books"). If you'll recall this relates to a larger sized "Big Blue Book" he (EHJ) put out in 1948 called "The FBI — The Basis of an American Police State" by Clifton Bennett.

These articles provide an intriguing inside onto how Hoover handled "controversial" people through his agents. I know you'll get a kick out of these articles.

Well, I guess I'll write you when there's more news I can come up with... to keep in touch.

Best,

Hal
